

To: Brittany Spears,

Written perhaps back in 2007.

I have been watching the tabloid covers. I never read them, but there is just enough information on the covers to provide all the information I need. I've had a similar life only much much worse. I showed off my secret parts before a crowd during a basketball game. I had one of my friends open the door for me and I stood there acting like I was surprised.

I lived life as a hard core atheist not caring or worrying about its consequences nor about facing God Almighty. I figured I would poison the world with my extremely violent role playing games I was writing. That game was called "The World Of Total Chaos." Now I am in the process of completely updating my books online. They are hard core truths, and written as Christian self help books. It is about the things we all go through in life and how we can get through the trials of life.

As for me my trial led me to a literal prison. In addition to that I have had severe mental illnesses. I saw you on TBN the Christian channel. They said you were scared! Friend I know that fear all too well. It is the fear of the LORD, and it will pierce even to the soul. I hated it but it got me through some trying times. Later it was just the Devil messing with my head. At any rate I know the fear.

I had something to do in your little hair cut. My thoughts were, "cut hair!" God heard those thoughts and you received them. It had to be a scary moment!

I hope you read my books. I am in the process of redoing all of them I just need time. I have a lot of work to do. Anyhow if you ever just need someone to talk to or you want to write feel free. If you think about it and you feel the LORD leading you back into music you might try some Christian music. I hope my writings help you in a good way. I always worry my books are not good enough. I wrote some of the parts of the books dedicating them to you which I did a long time ago. In my books I try to use humor to discuss some very serious topics.

Surely you have a lot of people praying for you, I'll try to keep you in mind also. God will bless you, but just know this, your silly season is ending. After that, all one feels is pain, I know, I've been there. Enjoy your life and God bless you.

Sincerely,

Dale Lee Gordon
